

Describing models

Conventional statistical model notation:

(1) List the variables

(2) Define each variable as a deterministic or distributional function of the other variables